“ Hi my name is Kayla and I am a local bible teacher. I am so sorry for the loss of your loved one. There is a very comforting scripture at Isaiah 25:8. It says that soon Jehovah will swallow up death forever and that he will wipe away all of the tears. So we can all look forward to a time when death will be no more. I hope that this scripture can bring some true comfort during these difficult times.

“ I remember Sunday afternoons as a child spent at my Grandma Loflin's house. All her children, my dad Bill, Aunt Ann, and Aunt Charlene were there with spouses and boyfriends in tow. And, of course, there were the three grandkids - Cheryl, Chrystal and me. In warm weather, the adults were always on the front porch, and we kids were, well, we were into everything. The adults took turns checking on us kids. I can still hear Aunt Ann's voice when she caught us doing things we were told not to do. The time was well before web cams, but I swear she had cameras following our every move. Aunt Ann is now in heaven with her beloved husband, Grandma, and her two brothers. Cheryl and Chrystal, now we really can't get away with anything without them seeing us. My thoughts are with everyone in the family. I know your pain and also celebrate the life that was Ann.
