

Betty Conley Wall

July 16, 2012

Betty Conley Wall, 84, died Monday, July 16th at Hospice Savannah after a brief illness. The Salisbury, N.C., native moved to Savannah eight years ago and was a member of Wilmington Island United Methodist Church and a volunteer at the Tybee Island Light Station and Museum. She also was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She loved the beach at Tybee and enjoyed spending time with friends she made there and in Savannah. Prior to moving to Savannah she was, for many years, an executive secretary at Burlington Industries. She also had been secretary to Clemson University Coach Frank Howard. She was an avid Clemson football fan, but also began rooting for the University of Georgia bulldogs after she moved to Savannah.

She was predeceased by her loving husband, Bob Wall; son, Doug Walters; and grandson, Randy Walters. Surviving are a son, Tom Walters (Kathleen Stapleton); two stepsons, Charlie Wall (Linda) and Mike Wall (Carol); eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Graveside Service: 11 a.m. Thursday, July 19th at Chestnut Hill Cemetery, Salisbury, N.C. Memorial Service: 11 a.m. Saturday, July 21st at Wilmington Island United Methodist Church, Savannah.
