“ I have known Carol all her life. Her sister and I are the same age. I never called her Carol, but like her Mother, we called her "punkin". I watched her grow into the beautiful lady she became. After she married and moved away, we only saw her occasionally when she was visiting her family in the Enon community. She was always pleasant and friendly.
My sister, Ward, and I will continue to remember all of you as you grieve the loss of one who fought a good fight and refused to let negative medical reports deprive her of her strong spirit, will to live and love for family.
She will be missed by all who knew and loved her.##imported-begin##Sally Huffman##imported-end##

“ I have many fond memories of my dear aunt. The picture with this obituary is how I remember her: happy and with a nice smile.

I remember visits to her home by the lake as a kid, the pea salad she made at family reunions and how she took the time to talk to me and get to know me as a adult, even when I had moved far away.

When I graduated from college, she gave me the Dr. Suess book, "Oh the Places You'll Go." There's a famous quote from the book: "Will you succeed? Yes, you will indeed. (98¾% guaranteed.)"

My Aunt Punk was a success in so much of what she did, as a professional, as a mother and as a grandmother. I'm a blessed to have had such a strong, loving aunt.

Deepest sympathies.

“ Carol was such a lovely woman, and I enjoyed seeing her when she would come into my shop for picture framing. May all of you know that she loved her family so much, and always glowed when she spoke of you. I hope the pain of her loss will soon be replaced by happy memories.
