“ Carolyn, I just sat and cried when I read of your passing. All the memories, fun times we had together came flooding back into my mind. I will always cherish the special friendship we had. When life took us apart for many years, getting back in touch was like there was never any distance between us. That is true love between friends. My one regret is not spending more time together. But when we meet again in heaven, we will have eternity to catch up. I love you, my dear friend. Connie
