“David, my older brother. Protective yet gentle. We had so many laughs together. From you grabbing the laundry basket mom placed on the hot stove that caught fire and throwing it in the yard and watching as it melted down several feet of snow, to telling me not to lean so far over the top bunk bed to change the tv channel even though I didn't listen and I fell headfirst, to promising not to kick my finger/hand as I held your football while you practiced kicking it on the football field, to you picking me up at my middle school dance just to start dancing in front of my friends getting encircled by them and I was mortified, to tripping over the same darn speed bump on my street that I had installed (that I also ended up tripping over).

We have a lot of good memories. Ones I'll never forget. We spent years trying to get you to move closer and you finally did about 7 months ago. Those were a great 7 months. Having you over for haircuts, dinners, stop ins, football games, going to the pool, and just being able to see you more often was the best.

Those that new you, really knew you, your character, your love, your heart, your worth.... those people were truly the lucky ones. Me, Eric, William, Grayson, Kaylee, Andy, Janine... We are the lucky ones, and I thank God each day that we had with you.

We've got Sasha. She has fit in nicely with our babies. You must have had a hand in this because Ellie is our chocolate monster, and I was nervous about this transition but there have been no problems at all. Sasha misses you though. I also know you were with William last night at his game. I could feel it when there was 1.8 seconds left in the game. Thank you.

Tell mom, pawpaw, granny, Karen, Granna, Sue, Thurston, Aunt Helen, Granny Annie, Aunt Hazel, Great Grandma Shuping, and all of our puppy doggies in heaven we said hello and we miss them. Until we meet again one day.

I love you,

*Your baby sister,
Jenny*

“ What can I say? Those that knew and loved David already know who David was. He was a kind and gentle soul. The kind of person who would give you his last dollar, the shirt off his back, or lend a hand even if he didn't really have time to do so. He cared deeply for his immediate family and mourned for those he's previously lost due to age, illness, or fractures. Sasha was a joy and highlight for Dave, as were his previous dogs. Football, let me tell you, competed for the top spot in his passions, especially watching family succeed on that field.

I am absolutely certain, that he is smiling down from on high. I am equally certain that I will miss him, his smile, his sense of humor, and even our political talks. Dave, you left us far too soon. You were an amazing person, a friend, and an even better family member. I am proud to have known you and will forever cherish my time with you.

Rest easy Dave, knowing you will forever be loved, honored, and respected by us. Say hello to Mawmaw, Pawpaw, and Granny for me. Till we meet again.
