“ I remember Emma one summer when Aunt Sarah and I went to see Aunt Dessi. She had a date with a very handsome Navy man while we were there. I helped her get ready and fixed her hair. She was so excited and when he got there I could see why. Aunt Dessi thought she should have been home by 9:00 and was up set when she came in around 10 :30. She told her Mom to calm down ,I'm home safe and sound and had a very nice time thank you for asking. I thought Aunt Dessi was going to break out a paddle. Emma said oh mom, I'm old enough to take care of myself. Aunt Sarah told Aunt Dessi ,sis Emma is a grown woman leave her alone. But Aunt Dessi wanted us to know she didn't approve of her getting home at 11:00. Aunt Sarah said if it had been her she would still be out as good looking as that Navy man was and I agreed with Aunt Sarah. That tickled Emma and she said thank you girls. I think that was the last time I saw Emma. Love you girls and I'm sorry that you have lost your Mom. Someday you will be together again .God Bless and Keep you close in this difficult time.Rita Carol
