“ My thoughts and prayers go out to you with the loss of this wonderful person, who was the big brother I never had. If I could have picked a person for a brother, I can think of no one finer than Frank to have been picked for that role. Frank taught me a lot over the years. Sure, he taught me and mentored me when it comes to hunting and fishing, but he also taught me a lot more. He taught me many of the things that a young and impressionable teenager needed to grow up. I saw the pride and passion he had for the work he did, and this trait has stuck with me forever. Whether it was building a boat or driving a tractor, he impressed me. He taught me to tie a miller's knot - the patience it took was neverending and has stuck with me. I never saw him get mad even though I gave him many reasons and opportunities. He got me the job at the drive in - showing more faith in me than I think I had in myself - teaching me a work ethic at an early age that I still have. The examples could go on and on. I miss him dearly and hope I can continue to follow his good examples as I continue life's journey,
