“ Pat was a talented, highly intelligent individual, and a dear friend for more than 40 years. A man of many interests, he lived life as if it were a precious gift, each moment to be cherished. His integrity and consideration for others will remain in the memories of those who were lucky enough to have their lives touched by him. Although I knew he was seriously ill, I'm still staggered by his passing and can't quite believe he has left this Earth. My deepest condolences go to Annalee and Pat's family. And may you rest in peace, my good friend.

“ I can honestly say that I enjoyed every minute that I spent with Pat. Pat was a wonderful student, he was very knowledgeable on many subjects and an extremely talented machinist. I loved talking with him about the things that he was passionate about, as he would light up and have the biggest smile. Pat was as genuine as they come and I am a better person for knowing him.

“ It has been many years since I last talked to Pat at my father’s funeral. I met Pat when his family first moved to Winston Salem in the late ‘60s and enrolled Pat at Bishop McGuinness. He soon became part of our posse and was a regular my home. I can still hear the sound of his voice asking my grandmother for some of her ice tea in his very charming South Carolinian accent. My father owned a garage servicing cars for over 50 years. When the boys in my family turned 16, we ‘interned’ that summer at the garage and all but one of my brothers realized that we had better career prospects 62lsewhere. But Pat was a car guy and he worked with my father at the garage and began a career where he shined in all things automotive. At my father’s funeral, Pat showed up with late 60’s muscle car that I thought as an homage to my father who liked Pat very much. We all did. I know that Pat had serious health issue and had heard that he was recovering. I had hoped to see Pat during my last trip to NC, but family obligations limited my time there. And that is so sad. I would give anything to hear one more time Pat asking someone for ice tea and tell me what was under the hood of a car he as working on. AnnaLee, I know your heart is heavy. He was so lucky to have you. I hope you find some solace in your family and friends who feel about Pat’s death as I do and others whom I have conveyed the news. Steve Broxton
