June 5, 1944 - April 5, 2025

Jane Caroline Spencer Turner, 80, of High Point, passed away April 5, 2025 at Willow Valley Center for Nursing in Winston-Salem.

Born June 5, 1944 in Salisbury, she is the daughter of the late Carl O. Spencer, Jr. and Elizabeth Davis Spencer. She was a graduate of North Rowan High School and attended East Carolina University School of Art. Jane was a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, an exceptional artist-watercolorist, and an avid promotor of the Word of God. Jane's journey on this earth was one marked by love, compassion, and unwavering faith in God. Jane's devotion to others was exemplified by the support she gave to her husband of 60 years, through creating a beautiful and loving home for Randy and their children Alison and Paul, and by instilling values in her children that became the foundation for their strength, integrity and independence. Jane was dignified, epitomized Southern hospitality, and was a blessing to all whom enjoyed her fellowship.

She was a former member of Central Methodist Church in Spencer. She was also a member of Dogwood Crafters in Dillsboro.
