“ My mother was my strength for many years. I was her first call in the morning and her last call in the evening. She gave me hope for a future much like hers with my father. She believed in me and loved the fact that I could communicate with her physicians with ease, a gift my parents gave me by educating me. She was an active part of the Salisbury community as well as First United Church of Christ. She taught many children in the Salisbury area. It was one of her many gifts. I was very fortunate to have been able to spend a lot of time with her and my dad over the last several years. Years that will help guide my future . I heard many stories of triumphs and many stories of trials but one thing always rang true was their bond of strength together especially in the tough times. The summer before my father passed I spent my weeks vacation from work with them. We spent hours going through old memories and their desires of the future. My mother had been ill for some time so it was very unexpected for my Dad to pass a few months later. It was devastating as is moms passing. No one is ever ready to be parentless, especially when your connection to your parents is very close. That first time you reach for your phone to call them and realize no one will be on the other end of the line , no answer, it's an empty emotion. I have no doubt the Tar Heels had help from above from two very avid tarheel fans in their winning of the national championship. She gave me a substantial gift that I will always treasure , her love. Love to my mom and dad

“ I am so sorry to hear of her passing. I worked on the 3rd shift at Carillon before she moved from there and she came to be very special to me. My thoughts are with the family. She was a very sweet lady.
