“ My condolences to the family and I pray they find peace in this journey.
Quick memory: I met the Barringer girls through Dot and the rides on her church bus. They were the cool kids that sat in the back. Kirksey was so nice to me as a young kid and would hook me up with Starburst’s lol. Which I still LOVE BtW. Through the power of FB we all have stayed connected over the years. When Wanda texted I was (and still am) in shock thinking about Dot and the entire family’s pain and the tornado of emotions that these events bring, it just breaks my heart. When Patsy contacted me to make sure I heard the news it was all too real. Kirksey is gone way too early and I hope her family can find comfort in knowing that she touched so many lives in her lifetime and she will not be forgotten.
