“ Bess, you have been for forty years one of the best friends I have ever had. My heart hurts for your loss. I know the past six months have been beyond difficult for you. I want you to know that I am thinking about you during your sorrow. John and I will be there tomorrow for Mack's service.

Mack was a wonderful husband, kind friend, and willing helper to all who needed him. He will be missed by his friends, his church, and most of all his loving wife. The friends he had in Eden respected this man very much. We have missed him since he moved from our town, and we grieve with the family now that we have lost him.##imported-begin##Fern Ragan##imported-end##
