“ Lots of fond memories of Mr. Green, from coaching our little league games, trips with his boys to Yankee Stadium, and working with him at Central Tractor "back in the day". Mr. Green taught me about accountability, hard work, "101" car maintenance, even recall teaching me how do use a road map (paper 😊), and of course, Thunderbirds, to mention a few. Speaking of T-Birds, he sold me my first one and had it ever since. (see attached pic taken February '21). Mr. Green will be missed and so happy to know he had a relationship with Jesus. Rest well Mr. Green! Peter and Marie Petrelis

“ As your nephew, I will always cherish the times we spent together. From the family gatherings where we laughed and of course ate, worked together at UPC doing what ever was needed, to the times I was lucky enough to drive one of your famous T-Birds for weddings. You will be greatly missed but I know that you have been reunited with Grandma, Grandpa, Uncle Ken, Aunt Alice, of course my father Don and the other family members that have passed. Love as always Chuck Green

“ I met Malcolm in 1996 at an ITC Convention in Washington DC. Being over 30 years younger than him and from another country (Australia), he welcomed me and invited me to come back to his home in New Jersey. We did road trips to Sleepy Hollow in 99 and to Wisconsin in 2005 to Thunderbird Conventions. My wife and I saw him again in 2009 at the Niagara Falls Convention and we visited his new home in North Carolina in 2014. He adored my wife, she made him laugh even though I think sometimes he could not understand her thick Australian accent. He and we be greatly missed by all in the Thunderbird community. Condolences on behalf of all Thunderbirds of Queensland members. Thanks for all the memories mate

“ We met Malcolm when he joined our church. He was so active in all phases of our church activities. Without a doubt, we thought and know that he was the sweetest man. He was right there to make coffee, prepare for communion, and you could always find him in the kitchen doing the dishes. He will be genuinely missed by our church members and friends from our area. My fondest memory was that he always spoke to everyone but i loved it when he kissed my (and other females) hand each Sunday. So sorry for his sudden loss to the family and our church.
