“ A wonderful family friend and an exceptional friend to my mother, Jane. The times I shared with Mildred and her family at the beach, on Christmas Eve, at her family home in Granite Quarry, and in countless other places will remain with me until the day I die. Her daughter, Leigh and I grew up during a simple time when being a child was fun with little thought of danger. Those memories will forever be pasted on the walls of my mind and will always hold a special place in my soul.
