“ I am Mickey Johnson Adams, and my grandmother Mattie Brown Johnson was the brother of Portia's father Willie. The Brown girls were older than I was, but I visited their mother with my grandmother (the two Matties were very close and continued to be friends long after Willie died) often. Irene was already married and gone from the home, but the younger three treated me like a younger sister and would buy me coloring books and would be so kind to me. I have such fond memories of her. I lost touch when she married and moved away. I always wanted to find her and regret that I did not find her before now. My prayers are with you. I will try to be at funeral tomorrow, but have been so ill that I may not be able to. I do not know if you are interested, but my cousin Doris (in Fla.) and I have done an extensive geneology on Willie Brown's family going way back. If interested, let me know in future and I will let you know how to access. I think Willie died before I was born, but I remember Portia's mom as being the kindest person on earth. I remember Portia that way also. I wish I had been able to locate her before now. My sympathy to the family.###imported-begin###Mickey Johnson Adams###imported-end###
