“ My family, the Harris and Burnsidés were neighbors to Bud, his dad and mom in Spencer. We appreciated the help given to us by them. Over the years Bud was very involved in the affairs of Spencer and was no stranger at the town meetings. Always current with the news, well informed and knowledgeable of world events made a conversation with him interesting as well as informative. Bud enjoyed his privacy but never minded having a good conversation with people he met on his walks in Spencer. The last time I saw Bud he was helping his neighbor by cleaning their curb of leaves so the rain water could flow as well as making things look better. Bud was a special part of Spencer and will be missed! Our kindest personal regards and sympathy. Tom, Terry, Bobby and Sheliah

“ R.D. was my neighbor and over the years we have had many "lively" conversations on a thousand topics. Bud frequently stopped by my house and he shared a lot of opinions. He also stopped at my outside hose to fill up his empty jugs with water so that he could make coffee, wash the dishes, etc. R.D. was very intelligent and very aware of what goes on in our little neighborhood. I will really miss him. Steve Freeman

“ I've known Bud since I was 5 years old. He would take me to play tennis and even bought me my first tennis racket. I would go to his house next door to mine to see him and Mrs. Earnhardt. They would give me warm Pepsi's to drink and I thought it was so cool because we didn't have soda in my house. I am very sure I annoyed them but they were always so good to me.

We managed to remain friends for 41 years, despite my moving out of state. If you were friends with Bud, you had a friend for life. I will miss him dearly.
