“ Ann and I became special friends in 2017. She admired my neon green $65 flip flops, looking for something more comfortable for herself to walk in. I always hugged her when I saw her before the worship service, and we enjoyed a little "catching up" of the week. I will/do surely miss her presence with us, but as my son often reminds me: "I wouldn't wish her back on earth to continue suffering." So I will shed a few tears, look at her photo and smile with joy at how she enriched my life.
