“Sally was always such a joy to be with. She was understanding and kind, with a wonderful sense of humor. There was just something about her that made you feel loved in her presence. I have enjoyed and am thankful for every moment that I ever spent with her. I do not have one bad memory of her. My memories of her are happy, every one of them good, even if the circumstances that brought us together were not.
That goodness in her gives me comfort in her passing. When someone like her leaves this earth, you know they went home. The sickness, all the pain, the burdens that she carried in this world are all gone now. I imagine that she has reaped all that joy and love she sowed on this Earth, with an abundance added to it.###imported-begin##Jessica Puckett###imported-end##

“ So sorry to hear about your loss. I just wanted to leave a brief word of encouragement to your family. Although we lose our loved ones at times in death, the bible promises that there is a resurrection hope for all those who have fallen asleep in death. John 5:28,29 promises that our loved ones have that hope. May you draw comfort from this thought and other comfort that the scriptures can give.##imported-begin##Marvin##imported-end##

“ My sweet, kind, and loving mommie,
Just wanted to let you know that I miss you so much, and I feel so lost in this house that you shared with us for a long time. After daddy passed you were so sad, and I knew in my heart that your heart was broken. No matter how tired, or weak you were you still came to the dinner table and ate every meal with your family. I miss tucking you in every night and hearing, " I love you more"! :(
Katelyn, Tyler, Trent, Harper, and Jensen, Eric miss you and daddy so much. Lilly is lost without you too. Even the neighbors are asking where you were when they haven't seen us out on the porch swing. I just hold back the tears and let everyone now that it was time for you to go and be with daddy. And mommie when we all saw how peaceful, and comfortable you were finally, we couldn't wish you back here for one second to endure anymore pain. Go rest, and enjoy your eternal life with Daddy, your mom, dad, brothers, sisters, friends, and Jesus in Heaven!! Welcome home Mommie! Save us a spot!!! Love always, your daughter!
