“ Steve and I worked together at Newport beginning in 1972. I followed Steve in the sales department and Steve was my trainer. I always told Steve he was the very best salesman and tried my best to be as good as he was in that profession. He just had a way with people and when Steve walked in the door, from the front office to the back of the plant, everyone loved Steve. Steve and I have remained friends for over 45 years. He loved Helen dearly and was always talking about all his children and grand children. Have had many fun times and golf games that always made great memories. I tried to call Steve a couple of weeks ago and he said he would call me back, little did I know that this would be my last words from Steve. I am sure that even in his sickness he still was making the other doctors, nurses, and patients around him have a better day. God reached down and took a good one home! All of that suffer from the loss of Steve are in my prayers.
