“ So sad to hear of Warren's passing. I was just thinking about individuals who've made significant impacts in my life and career and I started thinking about Warren and what he meant to me as an instructor at WPCC. I looked him up and unfortunately was saddened by learning he has gone on. The last time I ever spoke to Warren, I thanked him for making machining fun and easy to learn. Thank you again Warren.

“ After "inheriting" a late model motorcycle from my son's college roommate, I went to Warren (often) for advice on rider and bike safety. His sage advice allowed me to enjoy decades riding my Honda Goldwing, including a cross country trip to soak my boots in the Pacific Ocean. Warren, I'm certain there are now other bikers awaiting your arrival.....

“ Warren was one of my first mentors at WPCC when I started at WPCC in 1997. He was very gracious in showing me the ropes in developing into an effective instructor in the Engineering Department. He always modeled putting the students needs first in what he did at WPCC. I have tried to never forget the lessons he shared with me.

“ Warren was a mentor to me as a new instructor years ago at WPCC. Like our Lord, he genuinely wanted good for all, and sacrificed to help others for their good. A local industry told me that if they needed something taught, Warren would do his best to provide it. Like our Lord, he also stood confidently by what he believed was right and best for others. Even if he had disagreements with others on issues, he preserved, to the best of his ability, the relationship. With his passing, i'm reminded how fortunate i was to have known and worked with him. I pray for his family, his company, good advice and character will be greatly missed in this life. I look forward to fellowship with Warren in eternity.
